I am a computer science student at Cracow University of Technology. I also completed a six month Java course, where I created a web application based on REST API technology. I am currently working on another project – an application that enables user to book a table. I have also been learning HTML, CSS, Bootstrap and JavaScript.

PROJECTS

Reservation App - <https://reservation-app.github.io/>

Personal project - a web application, that enables creating and saving reservations and tables to the database. It also deletes completed reservations automatically and sends a confirmation email.

Kodilla CRUD App - <https://userveronikagarbarz.github.io>

A web application, that enables adding tasks to the database as well as displaying, editing and deleting them. Application also connects to API Trello and sends tasks to it.

Portfolio - <https://website-weronika.github.io/>
